Course track

Track : Attendance

"Attendance" track :

Attendance at lecture / tutorial classes and intermediate / final exams is mandatory. As evaluation of in class work constitutes an essential element of grading, any absence will be penalized and is taken into account for grading purposes (see academic rules and regulations).

"Autonomous" track :

Attendance at intermediate / final exams is mandatory, but students are free to attend lecture / tutorial classes.

For all Master programs and all other programs realized in the form of dual internships (apprentissage), attendance at lecture / tutorial classes and intermediate / final exams is entirely mandatory. Therefore, only the "Attendance" track can be selected.

Contribution of the course to the educational objectives of the programme

How the course contributes to the programme :

Description

This course aims at highlighting key topics in international marketing and providing students with knowledge related to the influence of culture and political systems, and the search for international market opportunities.

The coverage of these topics is mainly based on the Harvard Business School case studies, solved with an approach combining class discussions, group works, and presentations. At the methodological level, students will learn how to prepare a practical and effective marketing plan and resolve case studies.

The course is designed to provide students with the latest understanding of the global issues and the necessary skills in making strategic marketing decisions based on an international perspective.
