Course track

Track : Attendance

"Attendance" track :

Attendance at lecture / tutorial classes and intermediate / final exams is mandatory. As evaluation of in class work constitutes an essential element of grading, any absence will be penalized and is taken into account for grading purposes (see academic rules and regulations).

"Autonomous" track :

Attendance at intermediate / final exams is mandatory, but students are free to attend lecture / tutorial classes.

For all Master programs and all other programs realized in the form of dual internships (apprentissage), attendance at lecture / tutorial classes and intermediate / final exams is entirely mandatory. Therefore, only the "Attendance" track can be selected.

Contribution of the course to the educational objectives of the programme

How the course contributes to the programme :

Description

"Think global, act local" is a complex challenge that a vast majority of local and international managers alike are facing in the 21st century. This course will address topics such as cultural differences and their role in the management of organizations and teams as well as aspects related to international organizational behavior, human resource management, leadership, workforce and team diversity, communication, decision making and conflict resolution. Various trends in these areas as well as a number of challenges for managers of international teams will also be discussed. By the end of this course, students will have acquired relevant knowledge and insights into the management of international workforce / teams and the related implications for international organizations.

The goals of this course are:

- to offer students a thorough understanding of managerial processes taking place in international organizations;
- to develop students' ability to identify and discuss relevant management situations involving international teams of employees collaborating in a global environment;
- to help students develop a global mindset and acquire critical thinking skills, like an international business manager;
- to enhance students' awareness with respect to various international management issues;
- To encourage students to engage in self learning and reflection on their own experiences through role plays and work in diverse teams
